1891 - 1895	KEMPTVILLE	ACTON	WILLIAM	23/11/1893
Acton, William, . Kemptville Weekly Advance, November 23, 1893. Acton - At Acton's Corners on Thursday, Nov. 16, William Acton, aged 43 years, 3 months.
1891 - 1895	KEMPTVILLE	ACTON	JOHN	24/07/1891
Acton, John, Kemptville Weekly Advance, July 24, 1891: The grey-headed line of landmarks, once stalwart and brave, is gradually diminishing. On Monday last one of the old and respected citizens of the township of Oxford, John Acton, terminated a long life, having attained the advanced age of over 84 years. Deceased came from Ireland in 1834 and has been a continual resident of Oxford ever since. He has one sister still surviving him, Mrs. Greer, who lived convenient to her brother the greater part of life, but who removed to this village a couple of years ago. She likewise has reached a ripe old age, having passed her four score and two years, and is as active and hearty as many twenty years younger. Deceased was father of Messrs. Robert and Abram Acton, of this village.
1891 - 1895	KEMPTVILLE	ACTON	ABRAHAM(MRS)	14/08/1891
Acton, Mrs. Abraham, Kemptville Weekly Advance, August 14, 1891: Laid at Rest. After a couple of weeks' suffering, Sarah, beloved wife of Abraham Acton, died in this village on Monday morning last. The funeral service was held in St. James' Church at 3 o'clock on Tuesday, after which the remains were interred in the burial ground at Oxford Mills. The large procession of mourning friends who followed the remains to its last resting place was indicative of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. A husband and three children are left to mourn the loss of a faithful companion and a beloved mother.
1891 - 1895	KEMPTVILLE	ALLEN	LYDIA M.	10/11/1892
Allen, Lydia M., Kemptville Weekly Advance, November 10, 1892. Lydia M., daughter of Thadeus Allen of this village, died on Tuesday morning after a long and painful illness. The funeral service will be held at the house at 2 o'clock this afternoon, after which the remains will be interred in the Methodist burial grounds. Deceased was 40 years and 6 months of age.
1891 - 1895	KEMPTVILLE	ALLEN	THADDEUS	06/09/1894
Allen, Mr. Thaddeus, Kemptville Weekly Advance, September 6, 1894, Death of Thaddeus Allen.

The familiar and well known form of Thaddeus Allen will be missed in our village. In our last issue we referred to the internal injury he received while working at a sidewalk a couple of weeks ago. There was no hope of recovery and on Monday he passed away. Few men retain the strength and ambition to labor as diligently as did he up to the last of his life. He was born in Norfolk, St. Lawrence Co., N.Y., and over 50 years ago removed to this place where he continued to reside up to the time of his death. His family consisted of eight children, 3 sons and 5 daughters, three of whom are dead. The burial service yesterday afternoon was largely attended. The funeral sermon will be preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Kemptville Weekly Advance, August 30, 1894,
An Old Resident Injured.

A very serious misfortune befel Tadeus Allen a few days ago. By some means he was hurt when in the act of lifting a sidewalk sleeper near the Methodist church. It is feared that the injuries are internal and that owing to advanced age he will scarcely be able to endure the trouble very long. Mr. Allen has always been an industrious man and for the past few years hard work has been showing it's effect upon him.

1895 Anderson, Mr. Thomas
Kemptville Weekly Advance, December 26, 1895,
Thomas Anderson Dead.

By the death of the above-named gentleman, Oxford Mills has lost an old resident. Mr. Anderson was born in Ireland and came to this country when a young man. Having lived in the township for 57 years he naturally has been widely known and leaves many warm friends behind. For the past 6 months he has been in declining health and his demise was not unexpected. The funeral took place at Oxford Mills Saturday.

in which he lived, having been a carpenter by trade. He was known to be a hard working and industrious young man. It appears that the deceased had been ailing for some time past, and for several weeks it was feared that he was mentally deranged. On Sunday morning last Clarke had been siezed with a couple of severe fainting spells. One of the brothers stated that he would hasten for a physician, but Clarke said he would be better soon. He rallied sufficiently to be out again during the day, and in the afternoon requested his brother George to go back on the farm to look after some colts while the other brother, Wm., went with him. The three started back the lane together, but before they had gone far, Clarke complained of being tired and returned to the home. After walking around the rooms for a time he he went out and was seen passing the barn as if going back the lane again. About 4 o'clock William returned and enquired as to the whereabouts of Clarke and was told that it was supposed he had gone into the barn. The brother started for the barn and on opening the door beheld the awful sight of Clarke's body suspended by means of a rope from a loft. The rope was quickly cut but life was extinct. Whether he had jumped from the loft, which is about ten feet from the floor, or from a wagon nearby, is not known. Deceased was 34 years of age, unmarried, and leaves two sisters and two half-brothers. The remains were interred in St. James' cemetery, Kemptville on Tuesday.

1895 Barnes, Mrs. Sybil,
Kemptville Weekly Advance, October 9, 1891,
On Monday morning Mrs. Sybil Barnes, an aged and respected citizen of this village, passed away after several years of lingering illness. Deceased was one of the early settlers of Kemptville, and for many years past has resided with her son, Bishop Seely. She died at the advanced age of 77 years. Rev. James Coutts delivered a short but appropriate discourse at the residence after which the remains were laid to rest in the Methodist Cemetery.

1895 Bayne, James R.,
Kemptville Weekly Advance, July 25, 1895,
Although not entirely unexpected, the telegram from Montreal that flashed the sad news of the death of their son James, was a severe shock to Mr. and Mrs. John Bayne of Kemptville. La grippe started the trouble several weeks ago and although every possible effort was made to relieve the suffering, it developed into a case of acute tuberculosis, from the effects of which he died at his home in West Mount, Montreal, on Friday, 19th inst. The father and three brothers, Rev. Dr. G.D., Daniel and David, were attending at the bedside of the young man before his death. The remains were brought to Kemptville on Saturday's noon train and taken to his father's residence where the funeral service was conducted by Rev. H.J. McDiarmid at 4 o'clock. A large number of friends accompanied the bereaved to the new Public Cemetery where the body was interred. This was the first grave opened in the cemetery. A widow and two children are left to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and father.

	Beach, Mr. John, Kemptville Weekly Advance, June 16, 1892, A Sad Drowning Accident. A very sad and fatal accident occurred near Oxford Mills about 5 o'clock last evening by which John, an 18 year old son of James Beach, lost his life. During the day he had been ploughing in a field near the river. A younger brother brought a lunch to the young man and after eating it he went into the water for a bath. Unfortunately he waded out beyond his depth and being unable to swim, he sank to a watery grave. The younger brother gave the alarm but when assistance arrived it was too late. After considerable time was spent in searching , the body was recovered by T.E. McClanaghan. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon.

One of the oldest residents of the township of Oxford, James Beckett, who had attained the advanced age of almost 90 years, died at his residence, near Beckett's Landing, on Wednesday. Mr. Beckett was one of the ambitious sons of Connaught, Ireland, who came to this country when a young man, and for 62 years has been a resident of the neighbourhood in which he died. In politics he was a staunch Conservative, and was never known to deviate from his party, and was also a faithful and consistent member of the Church of England. The funeral will take place at St. Paul's Church, Marlborough, this morning at 10 o'clock.

..... Sinclair Joseph Beckett, youngest son of the late James Beckett, was a well known young man born near Beckett's Landing in the township of Oxford. The terrible news of his death was received on Monday which sad event occurred in the western part of Australia, nearly 12,000 miles from his homeThe young man it will be remembered had been a prominent student at Kemptville high school where he obtained a school teacher's certificate. He taught for one year in S.S. No. 2, Marlboro, and two years in S.S. No. 7 Goulburn. He was also a graduate of the Belleville business college. On the 15th of April he left our midst for the west. He first visited Cincinnati, Ohio, then San Francisco and Petaluma, Cal., and also spent a few months in Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. He returned to San Francisco and sailed for Australia on the S.S. Mariposa. After remaining a short time in Sydney, he spent three months in the study of minerals at Melbourne. Then for a year he taught school in a town on the Murray river and at the close of his engagement crossed the continent, a distance of 2,000 miles, and proceeding to an interior place 200 miles distant from the coast, he and his young companion, Geo. Hosburn of London, England, embarked together in mining. The two young men became equal owners in the 5-acre Daisy mine, Sinclair also having an interest in another. They were endeavoring to dispose of their property when Sinclair became stricken with typhoid fever in April last. The fever subsided somewhat after 3 or 4 weeks and the patient undertook to write to his brother, Capt. David Beckett, but was too weak and Mr. Hosburn finished it. at 12.30 a.m. on Friday, May 18th, Sinclair Beckett passed over the river of death and was numbered with the great majority, and by kind strangers, the remains were borne to the tomb in God's acre in that distant land. the young man willed all his property to his mother..... .

	Bell, Samuel, Kemptville Weekly Advance, January 19, 1893, Sad Affliction. Dr. Bell of Kars was in town on Monday. The adage that "trouble never comes single-handed" is true in his case. In March last, the Dr. was married to Miss Elizabeth Bell of Perth. In July he went to Vancouver , B.C., opened up an office for the practice of his profession as a Veterinary Surgeon, and also engaged a house in which he and his companion expected to spend many happy days. In October he came as far as Winnipeg and met Mrs. Bell. Together they returned to Vancouver where they arrived on Wednesday but, sad to say, that very night Mrs. Bell became very ill and the next Monday was a corpse. He conveyed the remains of his dear companion back to Perth where she sleeps with remains of other departed friends. On Saturday, 7th inst., Samuel Bell, father of Dr. Bell, was called away at an advanced age, having attained his 77th year. He was a native of Lanark county, but had lived in North Gower township for the past 50 years and was one of her highly respected citizens. Samuel Bennett left San Jose, Cal., on Thursday last in hopes of seeing his mother alive, but alas! only arrived in time for the funeral.

Kemptville Weekly Advance, December 1, 1892:
Ellen Bartley.

Died, November 21st, 1892, at her late residence near Kemptville, Ellen Bartley, widow of the late Samuel Bennett, eldest daughter of the late Jared Bartley of Oxford, and mother of Mrs. R. Hawkshaw of Ottawa. Mrs. Bennett was one whose amiable disposition made her a general favourite, and endeared her to her many friends. Being born in Oxford she resided with her parents until her 17th year, when she was united in marriage to the late Mr. Samuel Bennett of South Gower. Their union was remarkably happy. It was dissolved by death on March 24th, 1879, when she was left a sorrowing widow, with 9 children to care for, most of whom were small. These duties devolving only upon herself, she assiduously discharged them with remarkable energy, and strictly inculcated in their youthful minds the duty of attending church and Sabbath School, and to strictly remember the Sabbath Day. During her illness she repeatedly spoke of her absent sons in California. They were telegraphed for, one of them starting at once, and notwithstanding his rapid journey, death had claimed her three days before his arrival. It was deeply affecting to see the aged mother bowed with grief closely attending the bedside of her beloved dying daughter. The neighbours and friends were kindness its very self in doing all that laid in their power for the sorrowing family. The following Thursday her mortal remains were conveyed to their last resting place to the Episcopal church yard, Kemptville, followed by a large concourse of friends. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. C.P. Emery.

Death of Mr. Harvey Bower:

The familiar form of Mr. Harvey Bower has passed from our streets forever. Around in his apparently usual state of health on Wednesday, he had succumbed to a fatal attack of acute congestion of the lungs, before the close of the week. The first announcement of his severe illness excited the deepest interest and astonishment; while his untimely death, a few hours afterwards, called forth from our citizens a general expression of regret and sympathy, as genuine as it was unstinted. He could ill be spared, as, in his person, passes from out his home, the father, the brother, the son. For some years Mr. Bower has lived almost a charmed life. On several occasions he has had to engage in a life-and -death encounter with the grim Destroyer, succeeding each time in wresting from him a further lease of life, only to be compelled at last to lay it down with scarcely a struggle. Mr. Bower was genial and entertaining in his manner, and had few, if any, enemies. He had good business ability and was a successful General Loan and Insurance Agent, representing the Canada Life and many other standard companies. The funeral on Tuesday was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and sympathizing acquaintances, the remains being interred in St. James' cemetery. The Advance respectfully desires to express its sincere condolence with the bereaved family in its severe affliction.

From the Local News column: Among the friends from a distance who attended the funeral of the late Harvey Bower were: Dr. S.J. Bower and wife and Chas. H. Bower, Waddington; Mrs. James Porter, Powassan; Mrs. Wm. J. Bower and niece, Toronto; Mr. John Capel, Morrisburg; John S. Huntington, Prescott; Mrs. S. Clark, Smith's Falls; B. Magee, Merrickville; Dr. Reddick, Winchester; Geo. E. Kidd, Ottawa.

Kemptville Weekly Advance, May 12, 1892,
Sad and Fatal Accident, Robert Samuel Bower Dead.

A very melancholy accident befel one of South Gower's most respected and aged citizens on Monday afternoon of this week which caused his death the following day. Mr. Robert Samuel Bower was returning from Chas. Middagh's, a neighbour, with several bags of seed oats on a wagon on which there was no box. When turning into John McCarger's premises, one of the farms Mr. Bower was working this season, he accidentally fell off the load and unconsciously remained on the ground for about ten minutes, being unable to rise until discovered and assisted by some members of the family fifteen minutes after the fall. He was at once conveyed to his home about half a mile distant. It was evident that his spine was seriously injured and the unfortunate man died from the effects on Tuesday night, 36 hours after the accident. The deceased leaves a widow and two daughters who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends, also a brother, John C. Bower, Ottawa, and a sister, Mrs Samuel Huntington, Westmeath. Deceased was a life-long citizen of the township, having been born only a short distance from where he died. Deceased was in the 65th year of his age. The funeral will leave his late residence this morning at 10 o'clock for the Baptist church, South Gower.

surprise to all and more especially to the two sisters living here. A couple of weeks previous Esther had gone to Ottawa to visit friends and on Wednesday of last week went to Vankleek Hill where she arrived in the evening and died the following morning. From the manner of her conversation to her sisters shortly before leaving home it might be supposed that she had a premonition of her death. She said that she would not be with them here much longer as she was going to join her mother. The remains were accompanied here by Mr. and Mrs. Steele, friends of the deceased. In accordance with her request she was buried by the Salvation Army, the service taking place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The attendance was so large that the barracks was far too small to hold the people. Lieutenant Norman was in command and opened the meeting with an appropriate hymn, after which several testimonies, an address, and a number of pieces of music were given. The remains were buried in the new Public Cemetery and was attended by fully 500 people. Deceased was 36 years of age, and the youngest daughter of the late David Boyd.

 Brownlee, Mrs. James,
 Kemptville Weekly Advance, July 25, 1895,
 Mrs. James Brownlee departed this life on Saturday while at the home of her son, Andrew Callander in London, Ont. Deceased was born near Dumbarton Castle, Scotland, on the 4th of March, 1811, and came to Canada when but 9 years of age. She was married to John Callander of Dalhousie township, Lanark Co., by whom she had seven sons, Alexander, William, John and Andrew, now living; Robert, James and David, dead. Her second husband was J. Brownlee, father of Hugh Brownlee of this village. Her maiden name was Janett Miller, and originally was a Presbyterian but about 1845 united with the Methodist church. The greater part of her life was spent in the township of North Gower and only left there in September 1892 to live with her youngest son where she died. The remains were conveyed to this place by train on Sunday morning and were driven to the former home of the deceased, now occupied by her step-son, Jas. Henry Brownlee, and from thence to Alexander Callander's, her eldest son. The funeral service in the Methodist church in North Gower on Monday was largely attended.

 Kemptville Weekly Advance, September 27, 1894,
 Death of Elgin Buchanan.
 It becomes our duty this week to chronicle the death of another member of the Buchanan family. Elgin, the youngest son, was an active and highly respected young man of 21 years. He has been in poor health for several years and was confined to his room during the sickness and death of his brother Charles a few months ago. Not long since he was able to be out driving, also paid a short visit to Montreal from which city he returned two weeks ago. Last Saturday it became evident that all efforts to prolong the young man's life was futile. He continued to sink until about 6 o'clock this morning, when the spirit took it's flight. The funeral, which was conducted at the house at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Hammond, was

 Kemptville Weekly Advance, April 19, 1894,
 His Suffering Ended by Death.
 (condensed)

It becomes our painful duty to chronicle the death of one of the most estimable young men of town. Charlie Buchanan was well known to many of our readers. He was the fifth son of the late Alexander Buchanan of South Gower and brother of the present reeve of this village. His ambition was to become a successful chemist and druggist and in preparing for this he served five years in the store of his brother Angus Buchanan. His health was not commensurate with his high ambition and frequently he was unable to pursue his studies and work. In hope of regaining his health he, accompanied by his sister Annie, visited Sunderland, England, in June 1890 where they spent a couple of months among relatives, also in London, Glasgow, Edinburg and other places of importance. He worked as diligently last summer as his health would permit and passed his final examination in the Ontario College of Pharmacy in December, being second on the honor list and first in dispensing. Having obtained the desired object in his profession, he then laid out plans for future life and before returning here he visited Miss Winnie Adams of Chesley, Ont., daughter of the late Hugh Adams, who had promised to share his joys and his sorrows. In March they were to have been married and then intended going to Colorado. He returned to Kemptville, as he supposed for a few weeks, but soon after arriving he was confined to his bed. "Gallopung consumption"at 4 o'clock on the morning of Friday, April 6th, Charles Alexander Buchanan passed over the silent river. The funeral services were conducted at the house at 1.30 Sunday afternoon. Deceased having been a member of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows and also of the Kemptville brass band, each performed their accustomed part in showing their last respects. last resting place in the South Gower cemetery. In the evening the funeral sermon was preached in the Methodist church by the pastor Rev. W.H. Graham.....

Bush, Mr. Henry,
Kemptville Weekly Advance, March 28, 1895,
A Good Man Gone.

The death of our venerable citizen, Henry Bush, which occurred at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, was not an unexpected event. For several weeks he had been in failing health but felt completely resigned to the will of the Almighty. Deceased was very highly esteemed by all who knew him, in fact it is doubtful if he ever had an enemy for his disposition was of a strong winning character. He was a descendant of U.E. Loyalists being a son of William Bush who settled in Dundas county about 1790. Deceased was born in the year 1807 and was one of a family of ten children. He was married to Maria Stanley. To them were born 11 children. The following are still living: Warner T. of Oaks, Dak.; John, Ottawa; Orlando (M.P.P.) Kemptville; Mrs. C. Spencer, Mrs. G.W. Gibson, Ottawa; Mrs. Robt. Reid, Rat Portage; Mrs. Byron VanCamp, Mountain; Mrs. A. Grant, St. Thomas, Dak.; The funeral service at the residence at 1 o'clock on Tuesday was very largely attended notwithstanding the unfavourable roads and inclement weather. Revds. Mr. McKinnon conducted the service assisted by Rev. Mr. McDiarmid. Both spoke in highest terms respecting the deceased. There was a large number of mourning relatives present who keenly felt the loss they had sustained. John Johnston, J.P.; George Sanderson; John Dickinson; John Lamrock; John Sweeney; and Wm. Keegan acted as pall bearers.

Life's Curtain Dropping.

One of Kemptville's most estimable citizens, who is probably the oldest person in this vicinity, has been in poor health for several weeks and his life has been despaired of. We refer to Henry Bush who passed his 88th milestone on Tuesday of this week. Long has he been looked upon as a man of sterling character, somewhat reserved, careful to injure or trouble no one, and always ready to lend cheerful assistance to every good cause. He was born on the place adjoining the Chrysler Farm in Dundas county and distinctly remembers many things that transpired during the battle fought there in 1813 although a lad of only six summers. For the past 65 years he has been a resident of of the township of Oxford and with his son, O. Bush, M.P.P., has spent 11 years just outside the village limits. Although far advanced in life, Mr. Bush has generally enjoyed good health and the present illness is probably caused by old age.

Mrs. Wm. Tremble of Essex, came down last week to visit her brother, Andrew Callender of this village, whose health has been failing for some time. Their visit was short as he died yesterday morning.

Kemptville Weekly Advance, July 21, 1892.
Obituary.

This time it is our respected townsman and citizen, Mr. Andrew Callender, who has been called to pass off the stage. Mr. Callender was born in the township of North Gower, county of Carleton, in the year 1839. The more active period of his life was devoted to blacksmithing, which he carried on for about 30 years in the village of North Gower. About five years ago he retired from business and shortly after removed to this village where he has resided since. During his brief stay with us he has endeared himself to many outside of his circle of earlier acquaintances. He was an active member of the Methodist church during the greater part of his life and has filled the offices of Steward, Class Leader, Sunday School Superintendant, and Local Preacher. Mr. Callender was a man who won respect by his consistency of life, rectitude of action, and his unswerving adherence to what he believed to be right. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the widow and to the daughter Maggie.

age he crossed the ocean and commenced his ministry in Shipman, N.B. where he continued 11 years. After spending the following seven years in various places he came to Oxford township and was appointed in charge of the Patterson's Corners and Bishop's Mills Presbyterian churches. In this field he labored indefatigably for 23 years and was then placed on the retired list. He also filled the position of school inspector of Oxford for three years. During the past 9 years he has resided at Mountain Station and has always enjoyed very good health until he was seized by a stroke of paralysis at Kemptville Junction two or three summers ago while on his way home from Ottawa. The funeral service will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Methodist Hall at Mountain Station. He leaves a widow, one son and a daughter.

After two years lingering illness caused by nervous difficulties, Robert Christie peacefully passed away from this world at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, 3rd July. Dropsy set in a few days previous to his death when the friends felt confident that the end was near. He fell asleep about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and never again rallied. Mr. Christie spent the earlier part of his life near Hallville and some ten years ago removed to a farm in Oxford township near this village. Deceased was twice married, first to Elizabeth Stewart by whom he had 7 children, 5 of whom are still living. She died in November 1874. The present widow is Rilla Collison, by whom 6 small children are left to mourn the loss of a father. The funeral service was held at the family residence at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the remains were interred in the South Gower cemetery.

 Christie, Mrs. Thomas,
 Kemptville Weekly Advance, May 20, 1895,
 Obituary.
 Died June 1st, 1895, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James Gray of Chesterville, Mrs. Thos. Christie in the 88th years of her age. Mrs. Christie was one of the first settlers who are fast disappearing. She was the daughter of the late Lewis Grant, P.L.S., of Grant's Mills, Greenville, and the mother of Mrs. David Mundle of Kemptville. Her descendants are numerous, including 11 children, 34 grandchildren, and 27 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Christie and her late husband were the first two persons baptised in South Gower, near Kemptville, by the late Rev. D.
 McPhail who conducted divine service in their house with them during his labors there. They continued to be members of the South Gower church from the time of it's organization until their removal to Winchester 50 years ago. Their home from that time was the home of the pioneer Methodist ministers, no other having penetrated so far back. Soon after their removal to Winchester, Mr. McPhail visited them and preached in their house; and many years later when a Baptist church was organized at Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. Christie joined the church, he acting as deacon up to the time of his death. At that time there was no such thing as carriages and only lumber roads through the woods. Mr. Christie travelled on foot, carrying bibles on his back, and distributing them to the settlers, he being an active member of the Bible Society. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J.R. Coutts of Winchester who preached from James 4th chap, second clause of the 14th verse: "What is our life".
 Her son, W.B. Christie of Guelph acted as director and the pall bearers were her six grandsons: Mosson B. Mundle of Kemptville; Ernest Gray, Ward Nesbitt, of Chesterville; Howard Nesbitt of Winchester Springs; Eardly S. Coons and Haldon C.
 Coons of Morrisburg. Just before the end Mrs. Christie said to her daughter "there is no fear; Christ finished the Work; I am clothed in his righteousness; all is well". She was interred in maple Ridge cemetery.

On Thursday morning of last week their bright little son, Jimmie, aged 7 years, was very anxious to come to Kemptville with his father and brother, but about 8 o'clock they left the lad weeping as they started from their house. After dinner Jimmie was amusing himself by playing with his hand sleigh along the edge of the river, which is less than a hundred feet from the humble log dwelling. About 2 o'clock Maud, 14 years of age, went out of the house and saw her brother in the river. In endeavouring to rescue him the ice gave way and she was plunged in the cold water. Little Angus, only 4 years, who happened to go out of the house toddled back and told Bella, a 11-year-old girl, to "pull 'em out of the water". She hastened as fast as a sister's love could carry her, but all that could now be seen were the hands of Maud above the water. She grasped them and endeavored to pull her out but again the ice gave way and the third child was in the jaws of death. "Oh hurry up, ma, hurry up!" cried Bella, and the poor bewildered woman ran to the water's edge but could not reach her, and knew that two of her children were already lying dead below. By this time

Mrs. John Hinton, a neighbour, seeing there was trouble, started to run across the field and while doing so, hailed Adam Taylor, who was passing on his way to Kemptville. The latter by reaching out a fence rail, and twisting the skirts (which had kept the body up) around the end of the rail, succeeded in drawing the apparently lifeless Bella out. It was nor until some time after that any signs of life were manifested, but eventually the girl was noticed breathing. The friends continued to work with unabated energy until Bella finally regained consciousness. In the meantime a float was made and after searching 15 minutes the body of the little boy was taken out but not until two hours later did they find the body of Maud. The water at that place is from 8 to 12 feet deep. The funeral service was held in St. Andrews church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by the rector Rural Dean Emery. St. Paul's church was literally packed with mourners and sympathizers. The chancel was crowded as well as the main body of the church and some were even unable to gain admittance.

 Sudden Death in Kemptville.
 (condensed)

Little did the teachers or pupils of the Kemptville High School imagine that one of the brightest and best of their happy number was so soon to lay aside his studies to join the great majority who have passed over the River of Death. Nelson Eastman was a diligent student, a kind friend, and an exemplary christian. Two years ago last January he began his studies in the High School. In due time he passed his examination for third class teacher's certificate One week ago today he filled his place as usual in the class; today his remains are being consigned to the grave. He was not feeling well as he returned home from school on Thursday afternoon and the following morning Dr. Holmes was called in and found the young man suffering from appendicitis. The father came in on Friday afternoon intending to drive Nelson to their home near Goodstown and bring him back on Monday but the physician's advice was that the young man be kept quiet. Word was sent to the father on Monday of the serious condition of Nelson and he and his edest son started for Kemptville but when coming through North Gower village received word that he had passed away about 10 o'clock that forenoon. The teachers and students of the High School turned out nearly 150 strong to pay a comrade their last respects by marching from the school to the residence of William Eastman about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening to take a farewell look at the remains before being conveyed to the family residence in Marlboro. The funeral service will be conducted in the Methodist church in Kars this afternoon at 2 o'clock pallbearers: S. Dickinson, B. Derrick, A. Lohead, W. Tackaberry, G. Gibson and C. McDiarmid. Deceased was 25 years of age and leaves a father, two brothers and two sisters to mourn his loss.

	Eligh, Mr. Hamilton, Kemptville Weekly Advance, November 15, 1894, Our Vancouver Letter. Many readers of the Advance will regret to learn that Hamilton Eligh, formerly of Burritt' s Rapids, is now lying at the point of death. For some time he has been very ill with Brights Disease but there has always been hope of his recovery until within the last few days when his doctors gave him up. We paid a visit to his home this evening and found his mother and sister almost heart-broken. Dr. Wilson is his attending physician. (Later) Since I sent my correspondence of 5th inst., I regret to say that Hamilton Eligh has succumbed to his severe illness. Death came about 9 a.m. Wednesday. Funeral Friday, 9th inst., at 2 o'clock under the direction of Pacific Lodge No. 26, I.O.O.F. Deceased formerly lived near Beckett's Landing.

	Ellis, William, Kemptville Weekly Advance, December 24, 1891; Demise: After several months illness another old landmark passed away. We refer to William Johnston Ellis who died at his residence near this village on Thursday last. Nearly half a century has passed since Mr. Ellis ran his canoe on the banks of the Rideau near Beckett's Landing, coming from Lachute, Que., his birthplace. He was among the first who settled in that vicinity, taking possession of the farm now occupied by John Dixon, where he made for himself a home, and where he lived for many years. Some time ago the deceased removed to the suburbs of this village where he continued to reside till the time of his death. The deceased was very highly respected by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He leaves behind him an aged widow and two brothers, Haran G. Ellis of this place, and Thomas B. Ellis of Pembroke. He was in the 70th year of his age. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. Blair in the Methodist church at 10 o'clock a.m. on Saturday.

	Ellis, Mr. Haran G., Kemptville Weekly Advance, March 9, 1893, Mr. Ellis Dead. Another aged and respected citizen, Haran G. Ellis, passed away yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at the advanced age of 82 years. Deceased was very widely known and highly esteemed. He was born at Lachute, Que., and 50 years ago came up to Beckett's Landing where he remained 38 years and for the past 12 years has resided just outside this village. He was married to Miss Hamilton near Pembroke, who died about 26 years ago. They had six children, all living except the youngest son, Haran, who died of typhoid fever at Grand Forks, Dak., four weeks ago. For a great many years the deceased was a victim of rheumatism brought on by rafting in the earlier part of his life. Fourteen months ago he sustained a stroke of paralysis from which his left side became powerless. The second stroke occurred about 1 o'clock on Tuesday and only lived until 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The funeral will take place at 2.30 p.m. Sunday.

Kemptville Weekly Advance, September 14, 1893.

From the "Christian Guardian"

Haran G. Ellis was born at St. Andrews Sept. 19, 1811 and died at Kemptville. He was of a family of six brothers and three sisters, the only surviving brother now being Thomas, who lives near Pembroke, the father of J.D. Ellis of Montreal. He was twice married, first to Sarah Ann Hamilton, in February 1846, by whom he had seven children, of whom five are still living. viz. one in Dakota (one having recently died there), two in Wellington and two in Ontario. He was married the second time in 1869 to Mrs. Henry Hurd who survives him and whose tender nursing during his later years helped to smooth his pathway to the tomb. Most beautiful, too, was it to see a daughter's touching devotion to her aged and ailing father; coming from her brother's death bed in Dakota to weep at her father's grave in Ontario. Brother Ellis joined the Church in 1860, under the ministry of Rev. D.C. McDowell, spent the greater part of his life on the old homestead on the bank of the Rideau River, and now his mortal remains await the resurrection morning in the old burying ground.

1895 Ferguson, John B.,
Kemptville Weekly Advance, October 18, 1894;
Numbered with the Dead.

By the sad death of John B. Ferguson on the morning of Thursday last, there is a vacant chair in the home circle of Dr. C.F. Ferguson, M.P. of Kemptville, and another in the third year class of students in McGill college, Montreal. Notwithstanding the brief illness of the young man, for it lasted but two short weeks, his demise was not unexpected. For the greater part of the time of his sickness, the sorrowing father and mother, brother and sisters, entertained but a faint hope of the recovery of their loved one and He, who doeth all things well, dropped the curtain that separates the visible from the invisible at a moment when all expectations of recovery were abandoned. The funeral at 12 o'clock on Saturday under the auspices of the Independent Order of Foresters, of which deceased was a member, was one of the largest that has taken place in this village for many years and was attended by a large number of intimate friends of the deceased. Among them were: Hugh B. Fraser, A.. Grant, F. Thompson, F.J. Lee, F. Duckett, D.P. Lynch, Chas. H. Fox, Neil McKinnon, J.H. Allen, all intimate friends and colleagues who came up from Montreal. The first six acted as pall bearers from the residence to St. James' Church, after which W. Dillane, Hawksbury, W.E. Storey, S. Dickinson, A.J. Cochrane, J. Harris, and J. Ferguson, Bishop's Mills, conveyed the remains to the place of interment. Among others from a distance were: R.J. Bell, Belleville; Wm. Corbett, Albert Mills, W.O. Sweeney, Smith's Falls; H.S. Ferguson, Prescott. The doleful music of the band deepened the solemnity of the occasion; while the service in St. James' Church and the farewell ceremonies of the brotherhood tended to impress the vast gathering with a deep feeling of reverence and awe. Among the many beautiful wreaths and tokens of friendship sent by friends was a large arch nearly three feet high and two feet wide composed of white roses, interwoven with smaller and delicate flowers, while between the sides of the arch stood the gates ajar, and above which was a beautiful star. On the upper part of the arch were the words "Our President" and "Meds of '96, McGill" on the lower part. Wm. Botterill, Supreme Chief Ranger of the I.O.F. of Ottawa, officiated at the burial.

Died of Typhoid Fever.

Among the many homes made sad by the unwelcome visitor, Death, was that of James Finnerty of Oxford. A few weeks ago William Finnerty returned from Ottawa to the home of his uncle above mentioned in poor health. Lena, a sister of the sick young man, was untiring in her attention and care, and when the physician was called it was to discover that both were victims of typhoid fever, and that the disease had got beyond medical control in the case of the young woman and she died on Friday at the age of 23. Deceased was a daughter of John Finnerty. The solemn funeral service was conducted in St. James' church on Saturday forenoon.

Personal Mention:

The death of Mrs. James Flinn, second youngest daughter of George Leach of South Gower, Wednesday evening of last week was a sad event. She had been married but a year and a half, gave birth to a daughter some two months ago and from that time gradually failed in health until the time of her death. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from her late residence to St. James' church Kemptville, on Friday last.

and came to this country with his parents when about 9 years of age. He was one of a family of 15 children, 8 sons and 7 daughters, any of whom weighed not less than 200 pounds. For some years after his arrival he lived in the township of Goulbourn and from there he moved to the township of North Gower, where he continued to reside until the time of his death. He assisted in building the first house in Bytown known as Lower Town (Ottawa). Mr. Garland had been a successful farmer and lived to see his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren grow up around him in goodly numbers. During his long life he prided himself on being a staunch churchman, a firm consistent Conservative, and in honour and honesty he never varied from the old adage that "his word was his bond". He leaves a wife and six children living, three sons and three daughters. The sons are Rev. J.W. Garland, incumbent South Stukely, P.Q., N. Garland, Ottawa, and T.M. Garland of this village.

Graham, Rev. W.H., Kemptville Weekly Advance, March 28, 1895, Death of Rev. W.H. Graham. (condensed) The closing scene of the unusually ambitious and influential life of the pastor of the Methodist church of Kemptville occurred at the parsonage, 22nd of March, at 3 o'clock. The funeral at 12.15 o'clock on Monday was the largest ever attended in Kemptville. The ministers who attended from a distance were: Drs. Ryckman, Griffith, Benson and Saunders; Revds. Hughes, Lott, Huxtable, Scanlon, T.B. Conley, Philp, Hammond, Gibson, Lodstone, Pierce, Pyke. Rev. H.J. McDiarmid of the Presbyterian church and Rev. Mr. McKinnon of the Baptist church were also in attendance. Rev. Mr. Timberlake and Dr. Mark were unable to arrive until the afternoon train. They together with the pall-bearers, J. Patterson, J. Selleck. J.C. Rutherford, T. Conley, T.A. Craig, E.L.B. Connell, and a few other friends, accompanied the remains to Prescott where it was placed in a vault. It is now nearly two years since Rev. W.H. Graham was appointed to the pastorate of the Kemptville Methodist church..... The following is taken from the Brockville Recorder: His father, the late Andrew Graham came from the North of Ireland in 1831 and settled in the township of Osnabrook, Stormont county, where deceased was born in November 1832. His patents remained there but a short time when they removed to Percy township, Northumberland county, where William Henry who with a twin sister was the youngest of a family of eight, spent his boyhood days in endeavoring to hew out a new home in the unsettled country. Early in life he felt called on to preach and, encouraged by his father who was a local preacher in the Methodist church, he began preaching some forty years ago. His Last Call.
(from the 'Kingston Whig')

On January 26th the death occurred at No. 8, Laurier Ave., Toronto, of Lewis Grant, formerly of Kemptonville, later of Bath, a veteran of 1837, who served in the Battle of the Windmill at Prescott. He was a son of Lewis Grant, government surveyor, who came to Toronto with Gov. Simcoe in 1792, and grandson of William Grant, half-pay lieutenant, First Royals, Aberdeen, Scotland. He had six children, three surviving him, one son and two daughters. His last words were: "I know there are treasures laid up in heaven for me, for I am one of His sheep". About two hours before his death he asked for the XC Psalm to be read. His remains will be taken to South Gower, Grenville, to be buried beside his two wives. He was a widower for thirty-two years. Deceased was a reformer and adherent of the Baptist church.

Years ago Lewis Grant was a well-known citizen of Oxford township and was owner of the farm adjoining the Church of England at Oxford Mills. This property he exchanged with Reuben Clothier for the grist mill now the electric light station. After living here for 8 to 10 years, he removed to Bath.

Upon enquiry we learn that this sad and fatal accident occurred while drawing in hay. Cyrus and James, sons of Peter Hicks of North Gower township, had returned to the field for another load. James jumped from the wagon to commence loading but the team became frightened at a dog and started to run away going towards the father, who, seeing the trouble, got off the mower, but being in poor health, fainted. The team rushed on in fury and the sight was terrible to behold. James ran to where the hayrack had been thrown off and underneath it found his father and brother, the latter stunned and crushed. Sad news were received from Chicago Monday by Mrs. Jas. Hinton to the effect that her husband who had been attacked with typhoid fever a few days after her departure from the city was in a critical condition. A medical consultation had been held and it was feared that he could not survive. Although in extremely poor health, Mrs. Hinton took the midnight train for Chicago. Another telegram was received from Chicago Wednesday morning conveying the news of the death of Mr. Hinton at noon on Tuesday. One sad feature in connection herewith is that Mrs. Hinton had not been able to reach the bedside of her dying companion in time to receive his parting words or give any consolation what ever in the hour of death. Up to the time of taking the typhoid fever a couple of weeks ago, Mr. Hinton had enjoyed good health and his death was a great surprise to his many friends here.

Hunter, Robert,
Kemptville Weekly Advance, March 14, 1895,
Called in his Youth;

On Sunday afternoon last Robert, youngest son of Anthony Hunter of Kemptville, died after a comparatively short illness. The cause of his sickness is attributed to an accident which occurred early in the winter. The readers of The Advance will remember that four young men skated to Kars and that Harold Laing, one of the number, broke through the ice and only by a strenuous effort was rescued. The first to his assistance was Robt. Hunter followed by Geo. Clothier and Robt. Laing. The ice being thin, it was considered safer to lie down and they did so in the order named grasping each other by the hand. In their effort to extricate Laing, it is said that the ice partially gave way under Hunter and he received a terrible fright and begged to be saved from drowning. After getting out of the water, the young men returned to Kars where Robert's clothing was only partially dried. He returned to Kemptville the same day and in the evening drove several miles into the country to deliver a telegram. From that day forward there appeared to be a material change in the appearance and actions of the young man which was noticed particularly by the family. Until late he was looked upon as one of the healthiest and most rugged young men of the town, but after the accident above stated, his health began to give way and three weeks ago he was unable to leave his bed. All that loving friends and medical skill could do were of no avail. He died on Sunday at the age of 19 years. A short funeral service was held at the home at 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday and the remains were interred in the Methodist cemetery. On the casket was placed a beautiful wreath in the shape of a broken wheel provided by members of the Foot Ball and Lacrosse clubs, of which deceased had been a very active member, also one by relatives in Brockville. The bearers were: James Clothier, Theron Barnes, Thomas Smail, Col. McDiarmid, John McGillis and A. McLellan. The funeral service will be preached in the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening.

 By the death of Mrs. Hyndman, relict of the late Wm. Hyndman, Mountain township has lost one of her aged and well known citizens. Deceased was a daughter of John Wylie, born in Ireland and came to Canada when but 9 years of age. The family lived one year near the South Gower cemetery, when there had been but one interment made. The family afterwards removed to Mountain. Their children consisted of 5 sons and 7 daughters, 2 of the former and 3 of the latter now dead. The husband also lived to an advanced age and died some eight years ago. Deceased lacked but two of being four score years, had enjoyed very good health and was able to be around the house up to

Death of Mrs. Henry James:

On Friday the 16th inst., Mrs. Henry James had a sudden attack of inflammation of the bowels. Everything possible was done to check the disease and prolong life but to no purpose for Death claimed her as his victim and her spirit took it's flight shortly after 11 o'clock on Sunday last. The sad funeral service was conducted in St. Paul's Church in Marlboro', at 1 o'clock Tuesday by the rector, Rev. C.P. Emery. Deceased, who was highly respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, had always enjoyed excellent health, so much so that only once before were the services of a physician ever required in their house. Less than a year ago she and her husband, notwithstanding their advanced age, enjoyed a trip to Moose jaw, N.W.T. whither they went to visit their only daughter, Mrs. Coventry. Their family consisted of 3 sons and 1 daughter, all of whom are living. The late Mrs. James was born in Carleton county in the year 1821, married in 1850, and from the time of her marriage until her death always lived on the same farm in the township of Oxford. The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Saturday last. Samuel Johnston, county constable, and his little boy, Walter, John Johnston, J.P., and his adopted boy and girl from the orphan's home, were working in the sugar bush. The elder Mr. Johnston was attending to the fire while all the others were gathering sap. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon the wind was blowing a terrific gale causing the trees and limbs to swing to and fro in a frightful manner, so much so that Samuel stopped his work to look up and was apparently thinking of the safety of his horses and his little boy on the sleigh only about 12 feet from him. The girl said "you had better be careful" but no sooner had she said it than a limb about 150 lbs in weight fell and struck him on the top of his head. He immediately fell to the ground and expired. The girl ran to his help, took him by the hand but felt only a slight quivering of the muscles. Another ran to tell the father, John Johnston, who hastened to help but life was extinct. The shock was almost more than Mrs. Johnston could bear. Only a couple of hours before when her husband parted with her for his work, life was bright and hopeful, but in a very short time it presented a far different picture, a weeping wife and four fatherless children, the eldest but eleven years of age and the youngest a helpless infant of only 8 months. The remains were borne to the South Gower cemetery for burial on Monday. The widow and fatherless children have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad affliction and loss.

Sad Drowning Accident.

(Detailed report of an accident at Harding's grist mill, condensed)

..... The deceased being 72 years of age was really too old to undertake any work, especially when in such a dangerous place. Notwithstanding his advanced age, he was quite hearty and rugged, but being lame and considerably crippled, was not as active as he otherwise would have been. He was born in the county Carlo, Ireland, in 1822; came to Canada in 1832; and was resident of this county nearly ever since. He took an active part in surveying townships in the Northwest several years ago, of which his brother, Frank, at one time a representative of this country in the Dominion Parliament, had the contract. The funeral service was held in St. James' church at two o'clock yesterday, and was very largely attended. The conductor of the funeral, Frank Jones of Oxford Mills was a

Charles Jones, who has been a resident of Oxford township for seventy years, departed this life on Friday, 20th inst., at the age of 83. He was a native of County Carlo, Ireland and came to Canada when 18 years of age, settling with his parents in Oxford. He was an ambitious person and in his early years purchased the well-known farm on which he spent the most of his life and on which he died. His esteemed wife was also permitted to attain a ripe old age, who died about seven years ago. To them were born a family of 11 children 7 sons and 4 daughters, the majority of whom are now lying in God's acre. Mr. Jones has been a faithful member of the Church of England for many years and also a prominent member of the Orange Order. The funeral on Monday was very largely attended there being 64 conveyances in the procession, 24 occupied by Orange brethren who turned out to pay their last ----- of respect. The remains were interred in the Union cemetery.

A Prominent Citizen Dead.

During the past few days the Destroying Angel has been calling many from our midst. Among the number who answered to the roll call was George Keating, a prominent citizen of Kemptville for many years. Mr. Keating was always known as an enterprising business man, and by his shrewd and careful management had succeeded in accumulating considerable wealth. He was born in Toronto of Irish parentage, and spent a portion of his early life in Montreal, Ottawa and other places. He was married twice and by his first wife had two sons, George A. and Richard W., and by his second wife, one daughter, Edith, now Mrs. P.W. Tomkins. For years he had been a member of the Masonic, Odd Fellows, and Orange orders but had withdrawn some time ago. He was a charter member of the A.O.U.W. and I.O.F. and frequently occupied the highest office in several of the societies to which he belonged. For several years he filled with much acceptance the position of Reeve of this village as well as an active member of the Board of Education. His health has been very poorly for some time past. He tried the healing qualities of noted springs far and near but they had no lasting effect upon him. During the summer he visited the World's Fair, but upon his return, which was upwards of two months ago, his health grew worse and almost ever since he had been confined to bed. A week ago it was plainly evident that his days on earth were very few and accordingly the family friends were notified. Death

Kemptonville Weekly Advance, May 22, 1891;
Death of Mr. Robert Leslie:

Soon they will all be gone, those venerable fathers of the community who link the present generation to the past. On Thursday, the curtain was drawn on the earthly career of one of the most prominent of them, Mr. Robert Leslie, "the old man eloquent" who passed quietly away at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. W.H. Easton of Ottawa, with whom he had been residing for some months. Worn out with the weight of his years, tired from the faithful performance of the unending duties of a busy life, feeling that he was in the present age but not of it, like a child weary with play, he laid himself down and slept. Born about ninety years ago, in Aberdeen, Scotland, Mr. Leslie came to this country while a young man. The incidents in his career since then go to form the history of the town. For forty years he served Her Majesty in the capacity of postmaster, succeeding Mr. Bottum in 1850 and only resigning the office in March 1890, his name being a household word consequently in the whole neighbourhood. He was also Clerk of the township of Oxford during an extended period. He took part in the stirring events at the time the "Patriots" from the United States occupied the Windmill near Prescott, and often related an amusing story about the "pitchfork brigade". He was an intensely loyal subject of the Queen, and the anniversary of her birth-day, never failed to find the Union Jack floating in the breeze, bright and early on the top of the post-office. He was an ardent supporter of "the Old Man, the Old party, and the Old Flag". While enthusiastically celebrating the 24th of May, long, long ago, he received a discharge of gunpowder in the eyes, but, strange to say, suffered no serious injury from it; on the contrary, he always claimed that it improved his vision, a statement which would seem to be borne out by the remarkable fact that he could see perfectly without artificial aid, to the end of his days. Mr. Leslie was a very prominent and highly-esteemed member of St. James' Church, and his long career as Superintendent of the Sabbath School stands out as a shining example of his unselfish devotion to duty. He was also an active Society man, his peculiar love being Mount Zion Lodge, A.F. & A.M. He was "made" a member of that lodge in 1845 in Burritt's Rapids, and was largely instrumental in having it removed to Kemptville. He remained a consistent and devoted member of that noble order until his death. Some months ago his beloved lodge presented him with a gold-headed cane, and the kindly old gentleman valued it as his most cherished possession. He took great interest also in the Sons of Temperance, and laboured heroically for years to keep a lodge in existence in town, while receiving but little encouragement. Although anything but robust in appearance, his vigor and activity was marvellous and astonished all with whom he came in contact. He seemed to be able to defy the changes of climate; and Time, although able to write wrinkles on his brow, could not, until very recently, dim his eye or deaden the elasticity of his step. The remains were brought from Ottawa yesterday and interred in St. James' cemetery, with masonic rites and ceremonies. The very large funeral cortege was rendered additionally imposing from the presence of the Kemptville Band; Mount Zion Lodge, A.F. & A.M. with many representatives from sister lodges; and Olive Branch Division Sons of Temperance.

At 12.30 the procession, which was one of the largest witnessed in Kemptville for years, headed by the brass band, proceeded to St. James' church, where the Rector, Rev. C.P. B - - - , delivered an excellent and timely discourse. On the casket was a beautiful emblematic wreath, the three links made of white roses and calla lilies, inlaid with gold tinting; and two fine and tastily made wreaths presented by Mrs. G.A. Keating and Mrs. Alson beach.

 Called Away.
 On Friday last Mrs. Mary McFerran, widow of the late John McFerran, died at Beckett's Landing at the advanced age of nearly 90 years. For over a score of years deceased had been unable to walk and consequently confined to the house. Deceased was born in the County of Antrim, Ireland. She was married in her native land and there she buried her first husband. In the year '59 she came to the United States where she resided for some time, afterwards removing to this place. The funeral took place from the home of her son-in-law Albert McIntyre, to the South Gower cemetery Monday afternoon.

McIntyre, Mr. Donald, Kemptville Weekly Advance, May 23, 1895, Laid at Rest. The death of Donald McIntyre of Mountain Township on Thursday last was not an unexpected event, for loved ones had been watching by his bedside for several days. The universal expression was that a good man has gone to his reward. He was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, and in 1817 came to Glengarry with his parents where they remained two years. For the past 76 years he has been a resident of Mountain and in fact during that time had always lived on the same farm. His children consisted of 4 sons and 4 daughters, all living but one daughter. The remains were buried in South Gower cemetery on Saturday last.

Death has removed another old landmark from South Gower, which event occurred on Friday afternoon last. Deceased had attained the advanced age of 70 years. The remains were interred in South Gower cemetery on Monday.

Kemptville Weekly Advance, October 9, 1891,
Obituary.

Died, on Friday, Sept. 18th, of inflammation of the bowels, David Mundle. Deceased was a native of Ireland but emigrated to Canada when quite a young man. He resided for some time with his brother, the late James Mundle, then of Oxford, after which he took up his residence on the farm on the Ridge, South Gower, where he died. The solemn occasion was improved by Rev. McDiarmid of Kemptville who preached an able discourse and well suited to the occasion. The large concourse of friends who followed the remains to their last resting place, South Gower Cemetery, expressed the sincere sympathy of the people for the afflicted family on this sad occasion. May the Lord bless and keep them and and fit each one to fill the position in which an All Wise Providence has placed them.

 Departed This Life.

David Pelton was a gentleman widely known in this section of the country. He was a son of the late Elijah Pelton, an early settler of South Gower, whose family consisted of fourteen children. The most of them were gifted with a musical talent and for many years they were widely known as the musical family of the Gower. For years the late David Pelton did his utmost in cultivating the gift of music in others by holding singing classes in various places. Several years ago he removed from South Gower to a finely located farm lying on the Rideau between Burritt's Rapids and Merrickville, where he died on Monday night last at the age of 58. Mr. Pelton had been afflicted with diabetes for 5 or 6 years and had sought relief from every source but without any permanent effect. This forenoon, while the whole British empire is teeming with mirth and sport, the occasion of the Queen's birthday, the bereaved friends and relatives are committing all that was mortal of David Pelton to it's last resting place in the Union cemetery near Merrickville. He will be buried under the order of the A.O.U.W. at 10 o'clock this forenoon and brethren of Kemptville and adjoining lodges are invited to assist.

 George Perry Dead.
 The announcement on Monday afternoon of the death of George Pierce Perry, eldest son of Geo. Perry of this place, was so unexpected that it was a shock to every person. On Saturday, as usual, he was to see his grand parents at Perkins Mills. The following day he was slightly troubled with vomiting but otherwise appeared quite smart. On Monday, however, his condition became more alarming and a physician was called when it was found that he was suffering with inflammation of the lungs and heart. He died at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and was buried at St. James' cemetery at 10.30 yesterday.

Henry Shaler, The oldest person in this section departed this life at his residence in Kemptville between 6 and 7 o'clock Saturday evening last. So far as is known he was the oldest Methodist minister living and in a few weeks would have attained his 95th year. During the past summer he had been favored with remarkably good health. When getting out of his bed on Thursday morning paralysis laid hold of him, rendering his whole left side useless, depriving him of speech and sight. He could scarcely be roused from the stupor in which he had fallen up to the time of his death. Everyone who knew him always had a good word and kindly feeling for the aged gentleman. He had been a resident of Kemptville for 35 years, the greater part of the time superannuated. The aged widow is still living but from the effects of four paralytic strokes is unconscious of the demise of her companion and has been as helpless as an infant for about three years. The funeral service in the Methodist church at 10.45 a.m. on Tuesday was largely attended considering the rainy weather. Revds. (extensive summary of the sermon by Rev. W.H. Graham) Let us glance for a moment at the career of our departed brother, whose long long life has come to an end, admonishing us that no matter how long death delays he will come at last. Father Shaler was born Nov. 4th, 1799, in the State of Connecticut. He was born again in April 1822, and came to Canada in April 1826, and began to preach to the people as opportunity offered and was remarkably successful. It was soon seen that he possessed the qualifications necessary for a successful ministry of the Lord Jesus. He united with the Methodist conference 65 years ago at Ancaster and was ordained a Deacon by Bishop Hedding in the state of New York in May 1833, and was ordained to the full work of the ministry in Oct. of the same year. He labored in some of the hardest fields as well as some very important ones. Toronto, Waterloo, Ottawa, Augista, Prescott, Rideau, Richmond, Hull, Pembroke, and Mattawa were some of the fields he occupied More than thirty years ago he met with an accident that prevented him continuing the work of the ministry as he had done. He was superannuated for a year but never was quite able to resume his labors.

 Death of Mrs. Shaler.

In the death of Asenath Smith, relict of of the late Rev. Henry Shaler, Kemptville loses her oldest citizen. She had attained the advanced age of 92 years and 6 days. Middleburg, Schoharrie Co., N.Y., was the place of her nativity, where she was born in 1803. She was converted when 23 years of age. On the 24th day of Aug., 1828, she was married and came to Canada the following year, settling on Yonge Street, near York (now Toronto). Their family consisted of 1 son and 9 daughters, six of the latter now dead. After being stationed in various places in Canada they took up their residence in Kemptville in the year 1854 where Mr. and Mrs. Shaler continued to reside up to the time of their death. During late years Mrs. Shaler was the victim of several paralytic strokes, the fourth, which occurred on the 18th of June, 1891, seriously affected her senses. For the past year she has been entirely blind, deaf, speechless and dumb. The Death Angel called her on Thursday afternoon and she passed away without a struggle. The funeral service was conducted in the Methodist church Monday afternoon and the remains were laid by the side of her late husband who preceeded her only four months ago.

 Death of Joseph Shaw.

The death of Joseph Shaw, jr., on Saturday afternoon last was not unexpected as he had been gradually growing weaker for some time. In years he had just attained the prime of life being in the 25th year of his age. Obliging and social Joe was looked

 Shiach, Mrs. Elizabeth,
 Kemptville Weekly Advance, July 19, 1894,
 Mrs. Shiach has Passed Away.
 Among the early settlers of South Gower were Mr. and Mrs. Shiach. In the year 1835 David Shiach and Elizabeth Shaw were joined in wedlock in their native land, Scotland, and very shortly afterwards started for Canada. We understand they took up their abode in the Gower soon after landing and continued to reside on the same farm for nearly three score years. Only a few days ago the aged lady became ill and was confined to her bed but four or five days when her spirit took it's flight. The aged and sorrowing husband has the sympathy of a large circle of friends as also the children, 3 sons and 7 daughters. The funeral service was held at the family residence at 2 o'clock yesterday, after which the remains were followed to their last resting place in South Gower cemetery by a large concourse of mourning friends. Deceased had attained the advanced age of 79 years.

 Sproule, Mabel,
 Kemptville Weekly Advance, June 23, 1892;
 Little Mabel Has Gone;
 After weeks of intense suffering from brain fever, Mabel, only and beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sproule of this village succumbed to the disease on Monday. Every possible effort was made to prolong her earthly life but the All-wise decreed otherwise, and the flickering light went out. She was a bright and beautiful child of eight summers; was loved not only by her parents but by all who knew her, and a favourite among her school mates. The funeral service was conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock on Tuesday by Rev. Mr. Blair, who gave a short and very appropriate address. Suitable music was sung by a few friends and by the Sabbath School class of which the deceased was a member. The remains were interred in the Methodist church cemetery. The three little brothers, all of whom are younger than the deceased, as well as the grief-stricken parents, could not retain their feelings at the tomb and one of the little boys in the bitterness of his heart, cried out, "O, come back

				Stephens, Mr. William D., Kemptville Weekly Advance, November 7, 1895, Oxford Mills News. After a short illness of about a week's duration death claimed as it's victim one of our oldest citizens, in the person of William D. Stephens. Mr. Stephens was born near Lachute, in the Province of Quebec, in the year 1828, where he resided until some time after his marriage when he moved to Inkerman in '58. After remaining 5 years in the latter village he came to Oxford Mills and has been a resident of our village for the past 35 years during all of which time he has practised the profession of Veterinary Surgeon with much success. His practice extended to a great distance even throughout the neighbouring townships and he thus became one of the best known men in the vicinity and leaves behind him a very great number of friends to whom he was always ready to do a kindness if within his power. Out of a large family of 12 children, 9 are yet living, most of whom reside in new York City. The funeral service which took place on Sunday morning to the Methodist church was very largely attended, many coming a long distance to show their last respect to the departed and also their sympathy to the bereaved widow and children.

Laid at Rest.

The Death Angel knocked at the door of one of the residents of Miller's Corners at 3 o'clock last Thursday afternoon and called Alfred W. Tompkins. His health had not been what the most of people would desire for several years having been a great sufferer form asthma. He contracted a severe cold recently causing congestion of the lungs, and became quite ill last Tuesday, his last trip to Kemptville. Medical aid was summoned but nothing could be done to prolong his life. He was well known, having been mail carrier on the Heckston route for the past seven years and also had charge of the post office at Miller's Corners for a couple of years. Deceased was 39 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his loss. The funeral service took place in the Presbyterian church, Heckston, of which he was a member, at 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon after which the remains were laid to rest in the South Gower cemetery.

1891 - 1895	OXFORD-ON-RIDEAU	WATERSTON	MRS	01/11/1894
				Waterston, Mrs., Kemptville Weekly Advance, November 1, 1894, Died in Ottawa. The sad news of the death of his mother at Ottawa was received on Thursday of last week by Chas Waterston. Deceased had been ill about three months and had lived to see her three score years and ten. The funeral took place at nine o'clock Saturday forenoon from the family residence, Theodore street, to St. Joseph's church, and thence to Notre Dame cemetery says the Free Press. The choir rendered the Messe des Morts with touching effect while suitable solos were sung by Mrs. McGarr and Miss Aumond. Rev. Father Martin officiated. Through the death of Mrs. Waterston the city loses one of its oldest and most esteemed residents. She was born some seventy years ago in Limerick, Ireland, and came to old Bytown in 1843. Since then she has constantly resided in this section. A short time since she celebrated her golden wedding. She leaves a husband, two sons and two daughters to mourn over the great loss they have suffered.
